

How People Think In a Veterinary Practice

The People Who Live in the Past

Do you have those friends who spend all of their time thinking about the past - the good old days in high school or a job they used to hold?

These people spend most of their future trying to recapture what they once had.

The Ones Who Can't Wait for the Weekend

There are those who always seem mired in getting through the day or the week.

These people cannot wait for Friday. They slog through their days and their focus is on surviving the next 12 hours or the next 5 days.

Those Constantly Thinking About the Future

You can also think of a few individuals who are always thinking about the next opportunity. They talk about what life will be like in a few months or a few years.

They focus on what lies ahead and they are constantly envisioning it, reshaping it, and working toward it.

